REBELLIOUS AND TREASONABLE.

The Washington Chronicle characterizes the utterances of Ex-President Davis, at the organization of the Southern Historical Society, at Montgomery, White Sulphur Springs, as rebellious and treasonable. Mr. Davis merely spoke of the principles of "the lost cause" as patriotic and just, and said that history would so pronounce them.

Would the Chronicle have the leaders of the so-called rebellion come forward, now that the war is over, and proclaim that they were engaged in an unjust and unholy cause?

Would the Chronicle have the surviving soldiers who followed the standard of Lee and Stonewall Jackson, now turn traitors to their honest convictions, and prove false to their honor and their pride by worshipping at the shrine of successful wrong?

Would the Chronicle have the whole people of the South stigmatize the memories of the noble army of martyrs who yielded up their lives a sacrifice upon the altar of the DEAD CONFEDERACY?

If the Chronicle expects these things, it will expect in vain. Because we submit "to the situation" because we acquiesce in the results of the war—because we laid down our arms to the overpowering numbers of the enemy—because the might of the sword prevailed, all this did not decide the abstract question of right or wrong. If two men go out to fight, and one who is physically the stronger whips his weaker opponent, this only proves the superiority of brute force. The vanquished contestant may have had right and justice on his side.

We know that large numbers of the soldiers who fought in the Union army were actuated by high and lofty principles and for that reason we honor them for their devotion to duty and honor. But the soldiers who fought on the side of the South were equally sincere, equally conscientious, equally zealous in the discharge of their obligations to their country. Nay more. While the Northern soldier fought to preserve and perpetuate the Union, the Southern soldier fought in defence of the institutions of his section—in defence of his friends and his family—his altar and his fireside.

Some people at the North seem to be unable to understand that devotion to principle is not disloyalty to the Government. Until they can control the judgment, the consciences and the hearts of the Southern people they will never be able to make us believe that the cause in which our soldiers fought was the cause of treason or injustice.

THE NEW YORK WORLD ON THE VIRGINIA CONTEST.
The New York World, in an editorial on "Virginia—her Attitude and Objects," shows very plainly that it does not understand the real situation of affairs in that State.

After rebuking the Administration very properly for the part it proposes to take in the contest to secure the election of Hughes, it makes some comments on what it denominates "other alien and intrusive influences which the Conservative party will have to encounter." Now, it is well known that there are conflicting Railroad interests in the State, and that a wide difference of opinion exists among the Conservatives on these Railroad questions. But the party proposes first, to save the State from the ruin of Radicals, and afterwards to settle their minor differences.

General Mahone is looked upon as the leader of what may be called the anti-Buck-tail party; but there are leading Conservatives in the State who do not approve of General Mahone's policy. These do not go into the contest strictly on the principle of home Government, as the World contends. There is a subordination of all questions to the one grand purpose of preserving Virginia in the control of men of honesty, character and intelligence, and the question of who shall control the Railroads has been postponed until after the election in November.

The following editorial from the World shows how little that paper knows of the attitude and objects of the Virginia Conservatives:

They don't desire to repeat. They seek an end to controversy. Her wise and sagacious statements look to an example of other States not situated like hers—for, after a few or none there are among her prosperous Northern sisters—she is—and take counsel or warning. They look to New York and see how perfectly successful are those lines of improvement, which are wisely administered for the promotion of local interests, and what enormous damage was done when the Erie system was introduced. They contrast Pennsylvania and Maryland—the one with the best and the other with the poorest railway north of the Potomac; the one traversing limits of vast extent and incalculable resources, the other with a narrow territory and relatively with little to sustain her line of transit; and yet, by administrative ability shown in attention to local interests, the stock of the Maryland railroad is 80 per cent. above par while Pennsylvania, entangled in all sorts of mesh, cannot struggle above 8. Virginia wants to do for herself what Maryland has done. She has a noble seaport—far better than Baltimore or Philadelphia—and it is a natural pride in her public men to seek to build it up. Such are the motives and such will be the policy of the Conservative party. It will be "self-asserting" five years.

It will be the restoration of the credit, moral, political and economical of the Old Dominion. There will be no narrow exclusiveness. Virginia needs substantial capital and wholesome immigration from abroad, but she knows she deserves neither if she allows her legislation to be corrupted, as corrupted it certainly will be if it is to be used to the detriment of the Southern people. The whole country will look with deep interest to the solution of this Virginia problem. For ourselves, we do not for a moment doubt the result.

WILL FACTORIES PAY IN THE SOUTH?

Georgia is rapidly becoming one of the wealthiest and most prosperous of Southern States. There the manufacturing interests are encouraged and fostered by Legislative enactments, and the consequence is that factories are springing up all over the State.

It is stated that the Augusta Cotton Mills pay over twenty per cent. a year to the stockholders. We presume that the other factories are equally flourishing. The Cotton Mills at Petersburg pay twenty five per cent.

Speaking on this subject the Greensboro Patriot says:

"Cotton and almost every other kind of manufacturing in this State can, with proper attention, be made to pay handsome dividends, as all of the cotton mills now running do. Let our capitalists unite and continue to multiply cotton and other manufacturing establishments until no other State in the Union excels the number and quality of her manufactures."

This is the road that is destined to lead our people to competency, wealth, and influence; and the sooner our people take it and resolve to employ their means and energies in this way, the better it will be for them and the State."

A series of articles have appeared in our local columns in favor of establishing factories in this city. There is no reason why factories here will not pay as well as they do in Georgia.

The New England manufacturers of cotton have amassed immense fortunes. They have to pay a large per cent. for the transportation of the raw material to their doors. If it will pay transport cotton one thousand miles and convert it into the fabric, why will it not pay to have factories on the spot where the cotton is grown?

Let the next Legislature of North Carolina follow the example of Georgia, by passing a law for the encouragement of home factories.

GOOD FORTUNE OF TWO SOUTHERN LADIES.
Hon. Judah P. Benjamin, Secretary of State under the Southern Confederacy, who has been practising law in London since the close of the war, has written to two of his clients in Georgia, Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Campbell, that he has secured for them the inheritance they have recently fallen heirs to by the death of one of their wealthy ancestors in France. The inheritance is valued at twelve millions of dollars. The dispatch giving this intelligence does not state whether or not these fortunate Southern ladies are widows. This was an unpardonable omission.

Mr. Benjamin has been employed as counsel by the Drakes in this country, to investigate their claims to the large estate left in England by Sir Francis Drake—now awaiting the proper legal representatives.

ser, at whose feet he would lay his allegiance, only the brain and nerve necessary to make dignities and estates safe in the Empire.

History is full of the names of such men. They are thrown to the top in the boiling cauldron of revolution. Every race, nation and era of men furnishes them—cold-blooded assassins of popular rights. No tyrant ever yet made aggressions on his people without finding material support in the Adventurer.

TWELVE GRANDPARENTS.—Western papers are rivaling each other in the telling of stories about large families, which at the same time are noted for longevity. The worst yet is furnished by a correspondent of the Detroit Tribune, who writes from Litchfield, Mich.: "I saw in your paper an account of a child having nine grandparents. We in our town, can beat that by three, for we have a child about six months old with twelve grandparents, and all blood relations, viz: two grandfathers, two grandmothers, three great grandfathers, three great grandmothers, one great great grandfather, and one great great grandmother. Moreover, the great great grandparents are husband and wife. Can you find any one to beat that?"

SAFETY ON STEAM VESSELS.—A proposition from one of the prominent officials of the treasury Department will be submitted to Secretary Richardson in a few days for his action. It contemplates making pilots of steam vessels of any tonnage and wherever plying United States officers, attached to the office of the supervising inspector of steamboats, and requiring them before taking a vessel out of port to be fully satisfied that in all respects as to equipment and life-saving apparatus she has fully complied with the law. A refusal of a pilot to take a vessel out of any port owing to non-compliance with existing law shall be deemed by the owners a sufficient cause for detention until a personal inspection by the inspector of the district shall have been made.

Two South Carolinians recently called upon Governor Moses as applicants for a place as police justice. One was a gentleman of experience, honor and intelligence, but while the other, a negro unable to write his name, and known to be for sale a good deal cheaper than in the days of slavery. The Governor asked them their political opinions. The white man said he was a Democrat, but would administer justice without regard to color or politics. The negro said he was a Republican to the back bone, adding: "I've grown to stick to the Republican party long as we get a Moses to lead us through the burlesque." The negro got his commission.

COLOR IN THE ARMY.—According to a statement made by the Washington correspondent of the Boston Post, Secretary Belknap will assign colored graduates at West Point exclusively to commands in white regiments. The Secretary explains that the law leaves no option; he is required to officer colored regiments with white men, and therefore, he must assign regiments.

Brown tinted note paper is now the fashion in London. The note sheet is cut in legal shape, and turns at the top, instead of at the side. The novelty will soon be the rage here.

Hoe has invented a new press which will print 22,000 papers in an hour.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1874.

"WHEN THE TIDE GOES OUT."

Through the weary day on his couch he lay,
With the life-like ebbing slow away,
And the dew on his cold brow gathering fast,
As the pendulum numbered moments passed;
And I heard a soft voice, whispering, say,
"Why has the tide gone out he will pass away,
Pray for a soul's serene release!
That the weary spirit may rest in peace,
When the tide goes out."

When the tide goes out from the sea-girl's hand,
It bears strange freight from the gleaming strand;
The white-winged ships that await wait
For the foaming wave and a wind that will sail;
The treasures cast on a rocky shore that lie,
From the stranded ships that sail no more;
And hope that follow the shining sea—
Oh! the ocean will sail with all these
When the tide goes out.

But of all that drift from the shore to the sea,
Is the human soul to Eternity:
Floating away from a silent shore,
Like a fatal ship to return no more,
Saddest, most solemn of all, a soul
Passing where unknown waters roll,
Where shall the singing current lend,
Slowly dividing friends and friend,
When the tide goes out?

For our parting spirit, pray, oh! pray,
While the tide of life is ebbing away,
That the soul may pass o'er sunnier seas
Than clamped on old Hesperides.
A barque whose sails by angel hands
Shall be furled on a strand of golden sands,
And the friends that stand on a silent shore,
Knowing that we shall return no more,
Shall wish us joy of a voyage fair,
With calm, sweet skies, and favorite air,
When the tide goes out.

PORTER OF A CHARITY BOY.—A telegram from St. Joseph, Mo., tells how a young man, formerly an inmate of the almshouse, has inherited a fortune of about $50,000. In 1836, J. M. Page, a carpenter, came to St. Joseph from Indianapolis and shortly after died, leaving three children by a former wife. Extreme poverty drove the stepmother and children to the poorhouse. The children were subsequently taken out by citizens. A few days since a gentleman from Indianapolis reached St. Joseph in search of the Page children, whom he had traced to that place. He found Henry Page in the family of Mr. Penny, of Pike county, and brought him before Judge Pettigrew, of the Buchanan Probate Court, where his identity was fully established, and the information given that he is heir to eighty acres of land within a mile and a half of Indianapolis, and several thousand dollars in money, which had been left on interest by his mother. The property is undoubted to be worth about $50,000. The young man, who has been in a good family, and well educated, is now twenty-two years old and has started to take possession of his property.

A TELEGRAPHING PEOPLE.—The London Daily Telegraph, in a long article upon cheap postage, argues that the annual deficit in our postal revenue is attributable to the fact that we are essentially a telegraphing rather than a writing people; and states that, if the proportion of telegrams sent is closely scanned, it will be found that, in spite of the cheapness of postage and the dearth of electricity, more wire messages and fewer letters are relatively sent in the United States than in any other great civilized nation. It commends the abolition of the franking privilege, but thinks that, owing to the national high-pressure nature, and our enormous extent of territory, the postoffice has little chance of competing successfully with the telegraph, especially in view of the fact that the telegraph corporations have an almost unlimited power in the lobbies of Congress. The only relief it sees is a persistent onslaught upon private telegraphs, and arrives at the conclusion that the only means that will provide relief and make our postal service what it should be, is for the State to work the wires no less than the post.
